

FIRST EDITION
Text and illustrations copyright © 2005
Theodore Dubin Foundation.

All rights reserved under International and Pan-American Copyright Conventions.
Published in the United States by Easton
Studio Press / Theodore Dubin Foundation.
Distributed in the United States, its territories and possessions, and Canada by CDS Books.

Project Manager: Richard Rothschild, Print
Matters, Inc.
Production Manager: True Books, NYC
Designer: Ken Botnick, emdash
Editor: Kari Chalker
Author/Editorial Assistant: Jane Campbell
Copyeditor: Bijal Saraiya
Seasonal Round Illustrator: Michael Guran
Mapmakers: Anita Karl and James Kemp,
Compass Projections
Printer: Elegance Printing and Book Binding Co.,
Hong Kong
Color Separator: Mission Productions Ltd.,
Hong Kong
Library of Congress Cataloguing-in-Publication
Data on file.

All the author's proceeds from the publication of this book will be donated to the Theodore Dubin Foundation, whose mission includes the support of programs encouraging North American Indian art of quality.

Unless otherwise credited, all jewelry is by Denise and Samuel Wallace.

4. The silver, gold, and ivory colors of Alaska's winter landscape. Alsek Glacier, Saint Elias Mountains. Photograph by Art Wolfe.

facing page

5. Imam-Shua (Otter Woman) Bolo Tie.
*The hues of the Arctic winter are reflected in the palette of materials. Sterling silver, 14-karat gold, fossil ivory. 1995. Length,
3.5 in. (8.9 cm). Limited Edition, 4/5.
Collection Brenda and Gary Ruttenberg.*

